

Spelling Homework Term 4

Making	Use play dough, plasticine or cooking dough to make each of your words.	Use toys to spell out your words	Draw a picture for each list word. Turn one of them into an artwork.	Use rice or pasta to make your list words. You could do this after cooking and eat them if you wanted to.	Cut out paper letters for each of your words and put them together
Writing	Write a story about an Ogre using all of your list word at least once	Write a recount of an imaginary holiday using as many list words as you can.	Use as many of your list words as you can to write an information report about an imaginary animal.	Write poems or limericks using as many list words as you can.	Write a story that would be suitable for your Kinder buddy with your list words.
Using	Put your list words into alphabetical order.	Put the list words into a table showing the number of sounds in each word.	See how many list words you can use in a sausage list. eg. you might be able to link tree, dog and goat like this dogoatree.	Learn how to say your list words backwards. Try to teach someone else your new language.	Use the computer to write each list word in a different font.
Finding	Use a dictionary to find each of your list words. Write down the definition of three words. Was there any you couldn't find?	See how many list words you can find in one book. Can you find a book with no list words in it and a book with the most.	Read the newspaper and find as many list words as you can. Cut out an article that uses the most list words.	Find the definition of five list words using the computer.	Can you find songs that use your list words. You might need to use the internet or CD covers to look at lyrics.
Games	Get a skipping rope and skip each letter in the words.	Make two copies of your list on flashcards, use the cards to play snap, concentration or go fish.	Make a hopscotch board and spell out your words as you hop through the game.	Make a find a word grid with your list words (ask your teacher for grid paper)	Make up your own game that uses your spelling list.